

During the back-to-school season, these aisle signs were posted at street level, flanking already peeled/peeling wild postings to demonstrate Canadian Tire's range of products to both students and their parents.