

At the beginning of the College/University school year, aisle signs were actually placed inside dorm room windows to promote Canadian Tire's range of Back-to-School products.