

Funny how a place where you chop, grind and crush can be so soothing.

Kitchens you dream about. An IKEA kitchen – not very relaxing if you’re a steak or English cucumber. But very much so if you’re a gourmet. You design it online so everything is where you expect it to be. Choose your countertop and from 27 different door styles – all backed with a 10-year limited warranty. You can even choose delivery or installation. Isn’t that reassuring already? www.IKEA.ca
