

“Neiiiiiiiiin!”

Heinrich Eibenhooverdeibenmaker, a German Automotive Engineer, in response to the 2.5-litre flat four has been modified to improve emissions and efficiency – while maintaining the same high performance.

The Japanese car the Germans wish they'd made.