ABOUT BARBARA

My research assistants and I have created this site to draw attention to my ongoing and most important research to date:
Bernard, the boy who was raised by bees.

<< >> /br>

My research leads me to conclude that Bernard was raised by bees very soon after his birth. His intricate relationship with his bee family is complex and fascinating, and thanks to my daily research, more is being discovered about Bernard every single day.

Bernard was first spotted during a routine field study. It was immediately obvious that something was different about this boy. After weeks of passive observation, gaining Bernard's trust, and allowing him to adjust to my presence, I made contact and eventually brought him under my supervision.

Bernard displays many fascinating characteristics of bees, yet his human side is just as interesting. Time will tell how successfully Bernard can acclimate to human life.
